

Permissions Policy Integration

Permissions Policy Directives

- save-impression: permission to call the `saveImpression` API.
- measure-conversion: permission to call the `measureConversion` API.

Hard(ish) questions

- Do we need separate permissions for `saveImpression` and `measureConversion`?
  - Matters mostly (only?) on pages that may do both
- Enable these permissions by default?
  - `saveImpression` seems safe
  - Disabling `measureConversion` protects privacy budget, but makes configuration necessary when integrating external services
- Permission policy only gives allow/deny, so is not sufficient for delegating a portion of privacy budget
  - Do we need a separate budget delegation API?
- Proposal:
  - Two permissions, enabled by default
  - Defer delegation question for now
